Park County

Located in southcentral Montana, Park County is Montana's 12th most populous with 15,694 residents, according to the 2000 Census.

Livingston, the county seat, is the state's 11th largest city with a population of 6,851. According to the Montana Almanac, by authors Andrea Merrill and Judy Jacobson, the county was established in 1887 and named after Yellowstone National Park because of its proximity to the area. The authors add Livingston was named after Crawford, Charles or Johnson Livingston, three former directors of Northern Pacific Railroad.

The city is a ranching and railroad area and is the original and only year-round entrance to Yellowstone National Park. The Yellowstone River flows through the beautiful Paradise Valley and into Livingston, providing fishing and floating opportunities. The city is at the crossroads of Interstate 90 and U.S. Highway 89.

According to the U.S. Bureau of the Census, median income for Park County households in 1998 was $30,120. The county is 2,666.7 square miles in area; 2,656.2 square miles in land area and 10.5 in inland water area.

County residents experience the four distinct seasons. According to the Western Regional Climate Center, the average daily low in Livingston (airport readings) in January between 1961 and 1990 was 17.4 degrees above zero. The average daily high in July was 84.4 degrees above. The annual precipitation during the same period was 15.68 inches and the growing season was from May 23 to Sept. 14 (last and first frost).

PLEASE NOTE: Because of time and budget constraints, we are only able to update our county fliers periodically. Individual tables are updated on a more frequent basis. You can call us if you'd like the most current information for a particular county. The Annual Averages for County Employment By Industry are updated annually, usually in June. The Top Employers are updated annually. Per Capita Income statewide is usually released late spring. Population data for Montana is released in late December and county data in March. The Annual Average Labor Force information is benchmarked annually and numbers available before March. The other tables contain Census information and will be updated every 10 years. You can also look for more current information on our website listed on the front of this publication.
